Foreword

I am pleased to write the foreword of the reference source entitled "Directory of Academic and Research Librarians in North-Central Nigeria." This is one type of reference source that is in short supply in the information profession in Nigeria. The Directory provides a brief bio-data including telephone number and e-mail addresses of all academic and research librarians practicing in the North-Central geo-political zone of Nigeria. Thus, academic and research librarians in Benue, Kogi, Kwara, Nassarawa, Niger and Plateau states and Federal Capital Territory, Abuja are included. The Directory is arranged in a straight forward alphabetical order. It contains institutional and geographical indexes.

The Directory is recommended to all library and information science stakeholders in Nigeria. I congratulate the compilers of this directory for this new edition to the few existing reference sources in Library and Information Science in Nigeria.

Prof. L. O. Aina, FNLA

Introduction

A Directory is any document that contains the list of names, people, organizations or institutions with their addresses usually arranged alphabetically for easy accessibility and retrieval of information. This publication contains particulars of Library and Information Science professionals with at least Bachelor degree in Library Science, Library and Information Science working in Universities, Colleges of Education, Polytechnics, Monotechnics as well as, Research Organizations, Research Institutes, Medical Centres and some government parastatals within North-Central geopolitical zone of Nigeria.

The Directory covers six states namely: Benue, Kogi, Kwara, Nasarawa, Niger, and Plateau and FCT Abuja in North-Central geopolitical zone. The list of libraries was obtained through "Nominal List of Librarians in Nigeria", Nigerian Library Association Annual Conference attendance list and direct correspondence with colleagues.

The compilation of this Directory faced some difficulties, most especially with the changing nature of data submitted as a result of additional qualifications, transfer, death and retirement of professionals. Another serious problem was the non-response as well as delay in the return of completed copies of bio-data forms by the respondents. Despite these challenges, this publication would be of great value to Nigerian Library Association (NLA) and others who wish to contact libraries as well as professional colleagues who may wish to contact themselves.

The entries are arranged alphabetically by Librarians' Surname indicated by capital letters followed by other names in small letters. For easy location of information in the Directory, institutional and geographical indexes are provided.
